RE: Proposed Amendments to Court Rules
Supreme Court ADM File No. 2003-04

OBJECTION TO PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO MCR 6.502

This writer begins his objection to Amendment to MCR 6.502(e) (1), which imposes a (1)one year deadline for those seeking collateral review, under MCR 6.506(D)(1) does promote finality, however, finality at expense of denying the trial court to correct errors that have occurred in their court, which take away from judicial maintenance and the practice thereof, further, finality should not function as a system to weed out pro per litigants, whom has the difficult task of litigating their claims of constitutional violations, on an availability basis, because legal materials essential to adequate litigation is available on a first come, first served basis, which impede upon the litigation process by pro per litigants, therefore, in light of this foregoing this writer respectfully objects to the (1) one year deadline proposed by the amendments.

Respectfully Submitted,
